Findley Heads March of Dimes

Final Drive For Funds to Be Made in Band Concert at the College Jan. 31

The March of Dimes is on in Randall county, under the direction of Rev. Joseph Findley.

Containers have been placed at various places in Canyon to receive donations. Citizens are asked to drop their contributions into these jars.

The Buffalo Band will give a free concert at the College Auditorium on the evening of January 31. A free will offering will be taken, all of which will go to this fund.

The March of Dimes was started in honor of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt on his birthday, January 31. In spite of his affliction with the dreaded disease of infantile paralysis, Mr. Roosevelt carried on and reached the pinnacle of fame as a great war leader. His death has not altered the plan to carry on the national campaign of raising funds for the fight against the disease.

Variety of Junk Uncovered in the Court House

Have you ever lived in a home for 37 years without a house cleaning? Have you lived there for 10 years, and thrown nothing away?

What a lot of junk accumulates! The Randall county court house has been undergoing a complete renovating job. As a result, offices and storerooms have been cleaned out so that the repairmen and painters can get to their job.

The accumulation of 37 years has been piled back in the various little rooms, nooks, and corners.

These are now piled out in the corridors. And what a mass of junk. Discarded tables, chairs, benches, books, records, filing cabinets, window shades, gas stoves, etc., etc.

County officials are puzzled as to the disposition of this vast amount of material. Much of it belongs to various alphabetical agencies which have performed duties in the court house in the past. Some of these agencies are dead, but their records continue to be a source of inconvenience to the county. OPA has a vast pile of stuff on the second floor, which it has not moved.

Being housekeeper to the county is no joke, and right now with the improvement program underway the disposal of all this accumulation of 37 years in the court house will present no little problem to the county officials.

Mrs. Cecil Briggs Named New Court

"Rest Well Court" is the winning name presented by Mrs. Cecil Briggs for the new tourist court built by Mrs. Myrtle Schneider between 2nd and 3rd Avenues on the Amarillo Highway.

On Saturday Mrs. Schneider mailed Mrs. Briggs the $5.00 offered as first prize.

Mrs. Schneider expressed appreciation to the public for the interest manifest in the contest. She received 123 names. There were no duplicate names submitted, but there were several that were similar.

In choosing "Rest Well Court" Mrs. Schneider said that she was guided by the fact that name seemed most nearly to depict the theme that she hoped her court to fulfill.

A. B. Holt Asks For Re-election

A. B. HOLT

A. B. Holt has authorized The News to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of County and District Clerk, subject to the Democratic primary in July, 1946.

"I am now serving the people of Randall county as your County and District Clerk. In asking for re-election to this office I ask that you carefully investigate my record in handling the affairs of the office. If you approve of my stewardship in handling the affairs of this office, I ask that you consider favorably my candidacy for re-election.

"I have greatly appreciated the opportunity of serving the people of Randall county as your Clerk. The work has been pleasant, and the kindness which you have shown me has been very greatly appreciated by me and by the deputies who assist in serving you.

"This office handles vital records of Randall county. These records must be properly entered and preserved. I have tried to do this work diligently and to represent each property owner so that future difficulties with titles may be avoided. If my work has been satisfactory and if you approve of my work, I hope that you shall continue me in office.

"I intend to see each and every voter in the county between now and the July primary. But if I should miss any of you it will be entirely unintentional. I assure you that I shall greatly appreciate your support during the campaign and your vote in the primary," stated Mr. Holt.

Work Started on New Building For Bellah's

Work has been started on the new building at the southwest corner of the square which will house Bellah's Super Market. Alfred Bellah states that a contract has been let to Chas. Lambie, of Amarillo, who will complete the building in three months, provided strikes do not tie up the job. However, much of the material is on hand and it is believed that there will be no tie up.

The new building will be of white brick. It will be 60x100 feet, one story.

The present building of the Market on the west side of the square is 30x90 feet. When the firm moves to the new location, a new front will be built in the present building. Mr. Bellah states that he has not made future plans for the building.

Robert Bellah will be associated with his father in the business.

Garage Fire at Umbarger Was a Total Loss

The Campbell Garage and Service Station at Umbarger was completely destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon. Fire trucks from Canyon and Hereford answered the alarm but firemen were unable to do anything except keep the blaze from spreading to nearby buildings.

Besides the building and contents, a school bus and a county truck were destroyed.

The fire is believed to have started from a stove. The flames spread so quickly that it was impossible to remove anything from the building.

Although gasoline in underground tanks was saved, dozens of barrels of oil burned after exploding. Tops of the barrels were hurled into the air by the explosions. No one was injured.

Telephone lines were also severed by the blaze.

Extent of loss has not been determined.

Payment of Taxes Ends on Jan. 31

Penalties Will Be Added If Payments Are Not Made—Urge Poll Taxes to Vote

You have just one more week in which to pay your taxes without penalty. The deadline is Jan. 31, which comes next Thursday.

Those who have not paid their 1945 taxes should not allow them to become delinquent with the close of the month.

Payment of poll taxes must be paid on or before January 31 in order to vote in 1946 elections. Those who own other property are still liable for the payment of their poll taxes, but payments made after January 31 will not entitle the holder of the receipt to vote in the 1946 elections.

Veterans who have been discharged from the armed forces since May 5, 1945 do not have to pay the poll tax in order to vote this year. They do not have to secure an exemption in order to cast a vote. The constitutional amendment which was adopted by the people of Texas last November permits a free vote for 18 months following the day of discharge.

Clothing Drive to End January 31

Good Response is Made But More Clothing Is Needed States County Chairman

The collection for used clothes to send to the suffering peoples of war torn nations will come to an end on January 31, states J. W. Shook.

The response has been good in spite of the bad weather. Country people have not been able to come to Canyon because of bad roads. Mr. Shook hopes that they will be able to bring in their clothing before the end of the month.

If there are any citizens of the county who are unable to bring their collections to Canyon by January 31, Mr. Shook urges that he be advised and he will send after any sizeable collection.

Collections are being made at the Red Cross room, 1712 Fourth. This building is next to the Monarch Cleaners. The room is open to receive clothing every afternoon from 2 o'clock.

Mr. Shook states that the quality of the clothing has been good and will do much to keep suffering people warm during the winter months. He has been advised that all shipments will reach Europe or Pacific destinations in record time because of the light cargoes now being sent to our men overseas.

Under the law the county gets all of the collections on license fees up to $50,000, and 50% of all collections above $50,000.

OPA Promises to Increase Milk Prices to Meet Feed Advances

Earl Burtz Represents the Dairymen at Meeting Held in Dallas This Week

Wholesale milk producers have been promised a raise in the ceiling price of their product.

Officials of the OPA met with representatives of the producers and distributors at Dallas Monday and after hearing the case of the producers agreed to recommend to Washington a higher schedule of ceiling prices for milk in the Amarillo and Lubbock areas.

The Randall county dairymen were represented at the Dallas meeting by Earl Burtz, president of the County Dairymen's Association. The distributors who retail milk in Amarillo sent representatives to assist in presenting the case of the milk producers. The Lubbock area was also represented.

Milk producers were asking OPA to raise the ceiling on milk sufficient to offset the increased cost of feeding their cows. Because of the dry weather in 1945 in this area there was very little feed produced on dairy farms. Feed bought in other areas and brought in had increased the cost of producing milk something over $1.00 per cwt. Ceiling prices had been fixed at a time when feed production was normal and dairymen could depend mostly on home grown feed. This winter however the high cost of feed, bought to keep up milk production, had for the most part wiped out all profit for the dairymen and in some cases production was being kept up at a direct cash loss to the producers. Many producers could not continue producing milk and had decided to quit by February 1 unless they could get some price relief. Dairy farmers pretty generally object to milking cows in winter time if the sale of milk does not pay the feed bill and leave at least a little for wages. They are especially against operating at a loss at a time when they can get good wages for shorter hours in other lines of work.

Dairymen had previously appealed to the city commission of Amarillo and to Congressman Gene Worley for help in their fight with OPA over the price ceilings of milk.

District OPA officials had offered a small raise for the Amarillo-Lubbock area but this was not considered by the dairymen to be more than a gesture.

After the hearing in Dallas the higher authority of the regional office agreed to recommend a 60c per cwt. raise subject to the approval of the Washington office of the OPA. It is understood that Congressman Worley's office has been assured that the raise would be approved in Washington within a few days.

THIS IS REVOLUTION

The current strike situation is at last perfectly clear. It is nothing less than revolution. Traditional concepts of property rights, management rights and profit right are threatened. To see the way the revolution is proceeding, consider the case of a single basic industry—oil. Management and labor disagreed, superficially, on the percentage of wage increase to be granted. Fundamentally, the disagreement was not over the adequacy of wages, measured by past standards. Real wages are at record levels. Labor leaders have frankly stated that they are out for a distribution of profits. In the case of at least one industry, they have demanded a look at the "books" to decide for themselves how the profits should be shared.

When oil companies rebelled at strong-arm division of profits, the next step in the revolution took place. The government took over the companies. The workers went back to work pending a decision of the demands of their leaders. Now the negotiations have gone completely beyond the control of the oil industry. A three-man government "fact-finding" board has been appointed by the President. The question is how will it decide to divide the profits of the oil industry? The members of the oil industry, men who have worked all their lives to build up companies that serve the public well and have always endeavored to pay fair wages and a fair return to those investors who took the risks in the development of oil resources with millions of hard-earned savings, must await the outcome of the deliberations of three political appointees. They are helpless. The price paid for their products as well as wages are at the mercy of political maneuvering in government.

If this is not revolution, what is it? Whatever it is, it explains why reconversion and postwar production are dangerously stalled.

HERE TODAY, GONE TOMORROW

Anyone who has had experience with construction work during the past few years, knows that the grim statistics of building costs, short-ages and pent-up demand are all too true. The plain fact is that it is nearly impossible to build anything. Those who are fortunate enough to own homes and other property should be thankful indeed—thankful and doubly cautious to see that fire does not destroy them.

However, what people should do and what they actually do are two very different things. Estimates of fire losses in the United States in November were $39,393,000, an increase of nearly $3,000,000 over October, 1945, and 10 per cent higher than in November, 1944. This loss is the highest of any reported for November in the last 15 years.

The nation is as careless with its property now as in the most abundant days of peace. Far too many homes, factories and similar places of business are literally choked with hazards that could be removed easily and quickly. Thousands of structures will be destroyed because of failure to remove these hazards. Countless people will suffer needless hardship and an untold number will die. It will be months and perhaps years before reconstruction can begin. This is the story of the buildings that are here today and will be gone tomorrow. Most of them could be saved, along with the lives that will be lost and can never be replaced.

Fire prevention authorities strive by every means at their command to reach the people with the message of fire prevention. They believe that eventually they will be heard. Certainly, with property values soaring to new highs and the difficulties of replacements reaching the point of impossibility, they should be heard now if ever.

"CHEAP" MONEY, HIGH PRICES

It is a common occurrence to hear persons recoil with a muttered curse at the "outrageous" prices they are asked to pay for scores of necessities and luxuries. Generally their minds run beligerently back to the luckless producer. The most grotesque spectacle of all is the way various groups will charge each other with being highbinders, while the housewife thinks they are all robbers. The farmer curses the merchant; the merchant curses the farmer; and the consumer curses them both—when he is playing the role of consumer. If he also plays the role of family breadwinner, he, too, is a robber of some sort during office or work hours. This apparently is the normal behavior of a people in a land being visited by inflation.

No one ever curses our annual Federal deficit of tens of billions when he looks at the high price of a desired article, but it is at the heart of our price problems. Nor, so far as is ascertainable, does anyone ever rise up and damn the Federal government for its spendthrift ways when he is hit between the eyes with rising prices.

As long as the government continues to function on borrowed money, just so long will we continue to have alleged "price gougers" in every walk of life. Borrowed money has meant "cheap" money and high prices.

EVERY FAMILY INTERESTED

Only a short decade ago, the political and economic problems of the citizens of every state were primarily local instead of national. Today the problems most deeply affecting every citizen are national rather than local. One of the greatest national problems in which every family is interested, is our future military program.

Just as we have allowed centralized government to absorb many of the functions of local government, so are we asked to favor one central authority for our Army, Navy and Air Forces, thus eliminating the individuality of each and the inspiration of competition.

Germany was the greatest exponent of a centralized military organization. Italy was an advocate of the same idea. France, at different times, followed similar policies.

This war demonstrated that the United States can have a unified command of the various branches of its armed services in a national emergency, without having a military dictator in times of peace. There is need for haste in perfecting our military machine, but granting peacetime centralized military control over the three branches of our armed services must have the fullest consideration.

Assistant Secretary of the Navy H. Struve Hensel said, in the New York Times of November 22, 1945, "National security . . . is too large to be encompassed in any single organization. Even its military aspects are too diverse and too huge to be rolled into one great mass or to be effectively controlled by some super-holding company."

If we retain our place as a nation of democratic ideals under the flag of a republic, we need less, not more centralized government, and we must maintain military preparedness with the framework of our ideals of freedom.

GROW SLOW, MISTER

Reams of publicity have come out of Washington, D. C., describing efforts of government agencies to help small business. A member of the Commerce Department, writing in Chain Store Age, even tells how his agency advises and encourages small retailers to become big retailers. He cited a typical case, the owner of four stores in the Middle West. This owner had been operating his stores as four separate enterprises. With the help and advice from the Distribution Division of the Department of Commerce, he gradually converted his four separate stores into an integrated chain. This merchant was on his way, according to the Commerce official, to becoming a successful chain store operator.

Perhaps the new chain store operator should be warned that there will come a time, if he continues to apply himself, when unknowingly he will cross the nebulous border line separating small business from big business. Then, instead of working with him to help increase his capacity to serve consumers still more efficiently, a lot of politicians will be working against him in the hope of destroying his efficiency and pulling him back to the level of less progressive competitors.

THE STATES CAN'T TAKE IT

An item from an Oregon newspaper reports that high costs per highway work plans. Recent bids for proposed projects were a million dollars in excess of estimates of the State Highway Commission. And "these estimates had been pitched 50 per cent above the cost levels of 1941 to make way for increased costs." Bids received ranged from 12 to 25 per cent above the Commission's estimates. As a result, it was stated that "it is impossible to proceed with the road program on the basis of the bids received. . . ."

It seems the officials of the state of Oregon have never heard of OPA's cost absorption policy which, in effect, says that it is okay for costs to rise so long as the public doesn't find out about it. OPA states its policy another way: Manufacturers' costs and prices may rise, but not so the retailers'. Retail prices must not reflect increased costs. The OPA is proud of the fact that it is sticking to this program like a dog to a root. The retailers are criticized as promoters of inflation if they dare to cry "impossible" in protesting cost absorption. Yet, a state government not only says it is impossible for the state treasury to "absorb" inflated costs, but serves notice that road construction will be stopped. What would happen if the retailers of the country lay down in this fashion? The uproar would rival the blast of an atomic bomb.

There are over a million retailers faced with the dilemma of rising costs and frozen retail prices. These retailers are being asked to carry the main burden of inflation. This is neither fair nor workable. The only possible result is lowered production as thousands of merchants are slowly forced to drop the distribution of necessary items.

IT'S NOT INSURANCE

The Chicago Tribune observes that to call the President's proposed compulsory health program "insurance" is a misnomer. "The fundamental of insurance," says the Tribune, "is that the rate or premium is proportionate to the risk involved, and that all policyholders who offer the same risk pay the same rate. . . ."

"The so-called health insurance program embodies neither of these principles, common to all insurance. The man with a record of good health gets no rating advantage over the man who has a record of chronic ill health. Furthermore, payments are not fixed according to the probable cost of providing care to the individual, but according to his income. President Truman proposes that the tax, or a combined tax and a Federal subvention equal to 4 per cent of all incomes up to $3,600 a year, be used to finance the system. If the costs were placed solely on the beneficiaries, this income tax would cost a man earning $300 a month $144 a year. The man earning $100 a month would get the same protection for $48 a year. That's not insurance."

"It may be a legitimate public purpose to tax people in order to provide medical care for their less healthy, less prosperous, or less capable fellow citizens. That, in fact, is already done through tax-supported hospitals, and clinics. But such a project is not insurance. It's a new form of taxation and a very heavy one, and its proponents ought to acknowledge that fact in the beginning."

FAITH JUSTIFIED

Transcontinental air mail service has passed its twenty-fifth anniversary. Since September, 1920, when the first trip was completed, 4,000,000 passenger cars have been carried over the original transcontinental air trail, along with 125,000,000 pounds of mail and 177,600,000 pounds of cargo.

One of the pioneer steps in the development of the present day air transport industry was the inauguration of air express. The Railway Express Agency was one of the first to show faith in the new form of transport. It created an air express division and encouraged the expansion of shipment by air. Its thousands of off-airline offices are as ready to accept air express parcels as they are any other kind. Some packages are moved by the fastest method to the nearest air terminal and transferred to planes.

But the growth of the past will be dwarfed by what is to come in the future. The entire history of express is based on the principle of

Buffaloes Win and Lose at New Mexico, 36-40 and 47-34

Locals Completely "Off" In First Game—Malone Impresses His Audience

West Texas State's Buffaloes got off to a bad start in their first game with the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque last Friday night. It seemed as if everything was against them in the first half, when they could not even hit their free throws. J. W. Malone and Hank Decker were held almost completely scoreless in the first half, when the entire team made only eight points.

Both the University of New Mexico and the Texans made 15 field goals each in the first cage battle. West Texas State was able to sink only 6 of the charity shots throughout the game. The Lobos led at the half-time by 9 points, 17-8.

Couldn't Tie Score

During the second period, the local quintet began to see light again and managed to cut the University lead to 4 points, but was never able to forge ahead or to even the score.

High scoring honors went to Arroyo of the University of New Mexico Lobos, who put 21 points thru the mesh. J. W. Malone and Hank Decker shared scoring honors for the Buffs with 10 points each.

Malone Gets Going

In the second game with the Lobos Saturday night the Buffs started off at a decidedly different pace. J. W. Malone began showing Albuquerque fans why he was selected on the National Intercollegiate All-American team last year at Kansas City. Malone led the Buffaloes to an exciting 47 to 34 victory over the New Mexico team.

Malone was definitely putting on a show for the hosts as he stole the undivided attention of the crowd. In the Albuquerque papers the sports pages publicized the Buffaloes as the "J. W. Malone Floor Show." Malone was all over the court, dashing in, around and out, grabbing those fast Lobo passes and stealing down court to leave his team mates and opponents alone at the other end of the floor. His 14 points took the high point honors and Hank Decker trailed close behind with 11 points. Arroyo was leading scorer for the Lobos with 10 points, as compared with 21 the previous night.

Lobo Lead Fades

The Lobos led 4 to 2 in the opening minutes of Saturday's game but held that lead for only a very few minutes. West Texas State pulled ahead to lead the remainder of the game. There was little doubt about the final outcome soon after the second period. The Buffaloes had only 4 fouls called against them Saturday while the Lobos had 15.

His subject will be "Courage for the Tests of Peace," and the program can be heard over KQNC of Amarillo.

Dr. Gaines is a South Carolinian by birth and has been prominent in the educational field for years. He is a devout Christian, has an extensive knowledge of people, and is a speaker of unusual ability, according to Dr. S. F. last week relived with a convincing cast the story of Jane Eyre, three-act English classic presented by Campus Theatre.

Not only did West Texas State play-goers respond well to the production, but numerous Canyon people and theatrical workers from Amarillo viewed it—and liked it, if their reaction may be judged by the five curtain calls made after each performance.

Although postponement was imminent during the early part of the week because of the snow storm, the drama went on Wednesday and Thursday evenings as scheduled. The matinee for the demonstration school, originally set for Wednesday afternoon, was not staged until Friday.

Outstanding, of course, in the lead roles were Mary Henslee as Jane and Mickey Ledrick as Rochester.

Surpasses Amarillo Play

Particularly impressive to the 42 members of the Amarillo Theatre group who saw the show was the sincerity of the love-scenes—a difficult achievement for a non-professional cast. They agreed that the production compared quite favorably, and sometimes surpassed, the interpretation of the same play given in Amarillo two years ago.

Oma Link Rowley, present head of the West Texas Speech Department, directed both presentations of "Jane Eyre."

"I could not have asked for a more splendidly co-operative and pleasant selection of people with whom to work than the students here," asserts Mrs. Rowley, and adds that, the entire speech department has shown a voluntary interest and helpfulness that has been very gratifying to me.

Applaud Michell

W. T. High Has Feared Quintet

Cagers Win 12 Out Of 15 Games—Hooper And Russell Stars

West Texas High School has one of the most outstanding basketball clubs in the state, and certainly has some of the most outstanding players in Bervin Hooper and Dale Russell.

The Calves gained statewide recognition by winning their way to the finals of the Fort Worth High School Tournament during the Christmas holidays. Fort Worth's Riverside was the only quintet to nip the Calves and this game was by a very narrow margin in an overtime period.

West Texas High is one of the most feared teams in this section. In fact the opposition are nearly sure of defeat before they play—that is, if Hooper and Russell get on the loose.

The Calves are coached by "Buff" Morris and he doesn't have regular starters, thus eliminating thoughts that West Texas High is a one man club. Morris picks the starting five out of six players. Besides Hooper these cagers are Dale Russell, Bill Knighton, Horace Carter, Dan Johnson and Alvin Jennings.

Most of the coaches in this section of the state are quite sold on Hooper. In a recent game with the Plainview Bulldogs, Hooper scored 19 points, 2 more than the entire Plainview team. The Calves won by a lopsided score, 48-17. Dale Russell was close on Hooper's trail with 17 points in the same game.

Russell is a third year man and the only third year man. Hooper, Knighton, and Carter are second year men.

So far this season the West

Texas Calves have a pretty good record. They have won 12 out of a total of 15 games played. They have lost only to Stratford and Amarillo in this region and Riverside of Fort Worth. These defeats were all by very narrow margins. Amarillo wasn't given much of a chance in Thursday's game in Amarillo, but brought an upset to the Panhandle by defeating the Calves, 21-19.

McMurray Chanters Will Sing Thursday Night

The McMurray Chanters from McMurray College, Abilene, will be presented in concert at the Methodist church Thursday, Jan. 24, at 7:30 p. m.

This group, a girls' chorus, has been chosen to represent the entire Chanter group for this tour. Many of them have traveled rather extensively with Chanter groups.

The purpose of the tour is one of good will for the college and for the inspiration of the students.

The Chanters in years past have traveled over West Texas and New Mexico presenting concerts in high schools as well as churches. These groups have been very well received wherever they have appeared.

This year the Chanter groups have already been responsible for about seventy-five programs, including several week-end trips, a performance of The Messiah at Christmas time, several programs at the meeting of The Northwest Texas Conference, and many other local engagements.

Gypsy Ted Sullivan Wylie, head of the fine arts department of the college, is director of the group. Louise Spiegelmire is the accompanist.

Night clubs nowadays reminds us of the gay nineties. The women are gay, and the men are around ninety.

When I was a little fellow, my mother used to tell a story that amused me very much. Imagine my surprise and delight when I ran across it in an old book recently and it is said John B. Gough, the great temperance orator used to tell it as the truth. It's called "Brother Watkins."

A frontier preacher had moved to a new field of labor and to his new flock, he gave some reminiscences of his former pastorate:

"My beloved brethering, before I take my text, I must tell you about my parting with my old congregation. On the morning of the last Sabbath, I went into the meeting house to preach my farewell discourse. Just in front of me sat the old fathers and mothers in Israel; the tears coursed down their furrowed cheeks; their tottering forms and quivering lips breathed out a sad—'Fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah!'"

"Behind them sat the middle-aged men and matrons; health and vigor beamed from every countenance; and as they looked up I could see in their dreamy eyes—'Fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah!'"

"Behind them sat the boys and girls that I had baptized and gathered into the Sabbath school. Many times had they been rude and boisterous, but now their merry laugh was hushed, and in the silence I could hear—'Fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah!'"

"When I had finished my discourse and shaken hands with the brethering—ah I passed out to take a last look at the old church—ah! The broken steps, the flopping blinds and moss-covered roof suggested only—'Fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah!'"

"I mounted my old gray mare with my earthly possessions in my saddlebags and as I passed down the street, the servant-girls stood in the doors and with their brooms waved me a—'Fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah!'"

"As I passed out of the village, the low wind blew softly through the waving branches of the trees and moaned—'Fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah!'"

"I came down to the creek, and as the old mare stopped to drink, I could hear the water rippling over the pebbles a—'Fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah!'"

"I was slowly passing up the hill, meditating upon the sad vicissitudes and mutations of life, when suddenly out bounded a big hog from a fence corner with unk! unk! and I came to the ground with my saddle bags by my side. As I lay in the dust of the road, my old gray mare ran up the hill and as she turned the top she waved her tail back at me, seemingly to say—'Fare ye well, Brother Watkins—ah!'"

Slack-Thompson Wedding Held on Sunday Afternoon

Miss Sarah Slack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Slack, became the bride of Clarence Eugene Thompson, Radio Technician Mate 1st class, U. S. N., son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Thompson, on January 22.

Rev. Robert W. Jones read the double-ring service at 5:00 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Coffee. The ceremony was performed before the fireplace which was decorated with palms, white carnations and white tapers which had been lighted by Miss Vera Hamilton.

Preceding the wedding march Herschel Coffee played Schubert's "Ave Maria."

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a blue dressmaker suit and a corsage of red rose buds. For something old she wore an antique brooch, which had been her maternal grandmother's.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Jennings, niece of the bride and her only attendant, wore a beige dressmaker suit and a corsage of red carnations.

Thomas Harold Thompson was his brother's best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Slack chose a moss green suit with black accessories and a corsage of wine carnations. Mrs. Thompson, mother of the bridegroom, chose a black dress with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

At the reception following the wedding ceremony, a triple-tiered cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom figurine, was served by Mrs. J. D. Cleveland. Coffee was poured by Miss Hamilton and the guests were registered by Mrs. Louie Bonds.

The bride is a graduate of Canyon high school and the Draughton Business School at Lubbock. She was receptionist for the field director of the Red Cross at the Amarillo Air Field until last spring when she was employed by Remington Arms in Denver.

The bridegroom graduated from Canyon high school in 1942 as winner of the Balfour Plaque. He was editor of the Eagle's Tale, president of the Student Faculty Congress, a winner of the Burnam Plaque, a member of the high school band from the time of its organization, basketball captain in his senior year and served as president of his class for a goodly number of their school years. When he enlisted in the Navy in 1943 he had completed his freshman year in West Texas State and a 6 week's course at the University of Texas. All his work was pre-engineering courses. He has been in the service practically 3 years, spending more than a year in the Asiatic-Pacific theater.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Louie Bonds of Skellytown, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cleveland of Floydada, Miss Vera Hamilton and Herbert Slack of Tucuman, N. M.

Mrs. Thompson will not accompany her husband to New York when he returns this week end as he is assigned to report immediately to his ship for Atlantic sea duty.

Miss Lois Marie Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Baker, became the bride of S-Sgt. Clyde L. Rose of Ebensburg, Pennsylvania, at 1:30 Saturday afternoon, January 19, following a wedding dinner in the home of her parents.

Rev. Joseph Findley read the single ring rites before an improvised altar the background of which was formed with pink carnations and snapdragons and blue candles.

Miss Ann Gillham, bridesmaid, wore an aqua dress with black accessories and pink rose corsage.

S-Sgt. George La Gand of Hereford was best man.

The bride wore a soldier blue suit with brown and white accessories. Her corsage was red roses.

For her going-away suit the bride chose a brown suit with brown accessories.

The couple left for points in New Mexico for a short honeymoon.

Mrs. Rose is a graduate of West Texas Demonstration School and of West Texas State College, where she majored in Art. She was teaching at Spearman at the time of her marriage.

"That's ridiculous. What were her charges?"

"Opening her male."

A Georgia Negro evangelist was giving a vivid description of hell.

"Dere will be weeping and gnashing of teeth, brethren and sistern," he shouted.

"Glory be, dat lets me out," cried an old woman on the front seat, " 'cause Ah ain't got no teeth."

"Teeth!" screamed the dusky preacher, "teeth! Don't you believe dat for one minute, Sistah Jackson. Teeth is gwine to be furnished free of charge by the management."

Needs For Religious Instruction Is Seen States Local Pastor

Dr. Roy Johnson spoke at the weekly luncheon of the Canyon Rotary Club Tuesday. The program was in charge of Ray Campbell.

Dr. Johnson raised a number of questions regarding religious information which are necessary in order that nations understand other people. He does not believe that Americans understand foreign countries unless we understand their religions.

In America we have learned more about atomic energy than we have about religion. The morals of the people should keep up with the science of the nation. Religion alone gives men a sense of values. We don't even know how to settle the problems of capital and labor, in spite of the extent to which all people of the nation are involved.

Separation of the church and the state was approved by the speaker, as he pointed out the dangers which have arisen in those nations where the church has dominated.

In America youth gets instruction in religion only incidentally in its history. Religion should be taught by religious leaders.

Our schools are not allowed by law to give religious instruction; homes are so engrossed in material affairs that there is little religious training; more and more of the churches' time is being devoted to social activities. As a result 50% of the people of America are receiving no religious training. Of the 72 million people who are members of churches, fully one-third never go to their churches. The time of the people is so preoccupied that the churches are being paralyzed in their effort to touch the people. Big events of the week are more and more being scheduled for Sunday—golf tournaments, radio programs, athletic events. Even the government has used Sunday as the best time to present its radio campaigns.

The situation has become alarming in the nation, and some measures must be taken to combat this lack of religious training, stated the speaker.

Gordon Lyons was welcomed back into the club after having been in the navy.

Malcolm Gunter was introduced as the Junior Rotarian for the month.

Visitors were: Dr. B. R. Woodward of Arlington; Dr. William E. Howard of Dallas; Clarence Eugene Thompson, Wilford Taylor, Jr., of Canyon; G. F. Collier, J. M. French of Hereford; H. G. Prichard, Arch Hunsley, Jim McKnight, Oran Thomas, Geo. W. Hirsch, Guy Saunders, Morris Browning, Leroy White, Dr. Francis Prichard, Coley Conkright, all of Amarillo.

Miss Mary Evelyn Foster sang a solo dedicated to the old clothes drive.

Trailer Units Nearly Ready

First Veterans of "Town" to Move In On January 28

Thirty-five married veterans of World War II will occupy trailer house units now being installed on the campus of West Texas State College for the exclusive use of ex-service men and their families.

Fifteen expandable trailer units already in place have been reserved by couples, as also have most of twenty standard trailer houses located in the same area. Ten standard units have been placed in another location for the use of unmarried veterans. Bath houses, laundries, sidewalks, street lighting and other facilities are being installed. The college has applied through the Federal Housing Administration for many additional housing units of various types. First occupancy of veterans' "town" is scheduled for January 28, the day preceding registration for the spring semester.

Rental costs, to be set jointly by the college and FHA, have not been announced. Veterans are being invited to fill out application blanks at the office of Virgil Henson, Business Manager of the college, or to write to him for copies of these forms.

In anticipation of a constantly rising demand for housing by veterans and other students, the college is launching a dormitory building program which is expected to involve an expenditure of $600,000 within the next two years. First of these units to be completed will be an annex to Randall Hall for girls, which will house 100 young women. A new dormitory opposite Cousins Hall for girls, and additions to Stafford and Terrill Halls for men are other major units of the building program.

A young wife asked the store clerk for a book which she could use as a diary.

"How about this nice scrap book?" suggested the clerk.

"Heavens, no," exclaimed the bride. "I'll have you understand my husband and I get along beautifully."

A middle aged woman stopped a man on the street and demanded:

"Why aren't you in the army?"

The man, well past the draft age, replied:

"For the same reason you aren't in the Pollies."

"I'm not sure, but wasn't it his last one?"

THE MARCH OF DIMES!

For the first time in thirteen years, the March of Dimes, annual appeal of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, is being held January 14-31 without the living presence of the man who inaugurated the fight against infantile paralysis and became its symbol: our late president, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The cause for which he fought so valiantly is bequeathed to the American public. The fight is not yet won. We must reinforce our strength and increase our effort until final victory is achieved.

March of Dimes Symbol

For millions of Americans, Franklin D. Roosevelt, who refused to accept defeat from infantile paralysis, symbolized the nation's fight against the Great Crippler organized and directed by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which the late President founded. The above poster was prepared by the National Foundation for its 1946 March of Dimes, January 14-31.

Students Can Learn to Fly

Aviation Lessons Are Included on Regular Program at W. T.

With an eye to future air developments, including a modern airport adjacent to the campus, West Texas State students, especially returned war veterans, enjoy the convenient opportunity to learn to fly at the Canyon airport three miles north.

Any student can include flying in his regular program of classes and receive his private license, plus three college credit hours, in a period of time ranging from one semester to one year.

Veterans, including women, who wish to include flying with their other expenses under the G. I. Bill of Rights, should first consult the Veterans Administration and then have the course placed on their programs at the Registrar's office. During registration in the gymnasium for the second term, counselors will be available for students interested in learning to fly. To receive credit for flying, a student must have it included on his official program.

Can Receive License

For about $250, a person can earn his private license, which entitles him to fly a single engine plane to any destination.

G. W. Cox, owner of the Canyon Air Service, expects during the next semester to start the practice of having instructors pick students up near the campus, to save the time of trips to the airport. Within a year or two the airport will be transplanted to this location adjacent to the campus. Students will have to go only a few hundred yards to receive their flight training.

The W. T. S. C. airport has been recognized as open to the general flying public since January 16, 1943. During its life, about 2000 persons have been trained to fly there. Of this number, not one accident involving injury of any sort has occurred.

All types of persons have been taken for rides at the airport, according to Mr. Cox. For instance, passengers have ranged from a two-year-old boy to an 83-year-old lady who came out for her first airplane ride. Air-sickness has not often been encountered by passengers.

enables persons, especially veterans, to learn while they earn. At present, the government pays $75 a month as journeyman's wage to such veterans.

Three 65 HP two-place Piper Cub trainers and a 75 HP three-place cruiser are now being used at the airport. Instructors are Sherman Higdon, who spent five years flying in the Army, and Bob Pittard, both of whom live in Canyon.

"Because of the accomplishments of the Allies' air forces during the war, I believe air travel is here to stay," Mr. Cox says. "The airplane should be converted into a machine at least as useful in peacetime as it was in war. Aviation is the safest, fastest, and most economical method of transportation today. Every young person with an open mind to the future will soon be flying."

How Well Has General Electric Met These Objectives?

HIGHER WAGES

Here's how General Electric's increased production and efficiency have affected G-E workers. Average hourly earnings for men, not including overtime pay, have gone up as follows:

1936	$ .73
1937	.81
1938	.87
1939	.86
1940	.85
1941	.89
1942	.96
1943	1.05
1944	1.09
1945 (Sept.)	1.09

Overtime pay gave G-E workers more on top of this. G.E. has made jobs for nearly three times as many. 61,781 worked for G.E. nine years ago. In 1945 an average of 145,000 had jobs at G.E. and at much higher pay.

LOWER PRICES

G.E. has an obligation to a second group of people—the public. The public wants improved products at fair prices.

"More goods for more people at less cost"—G.E.'s goal—is not a part-time assignment. It is a job for management and worker alike if G.E. is to keep growing, keep raising wages, keep making more jobs for more workers.

A few figures show typical price decreases:

Refrigerator
1935	$199.00
1941	129.95
Lamp
1935	.15
1945	.10 (PLUS TAX)
Transformer
1935	76.32
1941	69.30
Motor
1935	12.80
1941	8.50
Radio
1935	47.50

FAIR PROFITS

G. E. during the war earned 4.7% on each dollar of sales. Of this, 4.1% was paid to its more than 200,000 stockholders and the remaining six-tenths of a cent on each dollar was retained in the business to assist in carrying on and expanding its operations.

All money earned over this 4.7% was turned back to the U. S. Government. G-E cost-saving methods had made war goods for less money than the Government expected.

These dividends have been declared per share of common stock since 1936:

1936	$1.50
1937	2.20
1938	.90
1939	1.40
1940	1.84
1941	1.75
1942	1.40
1943	1.40
1944	1.40
1945	1.50

GENERAL ELECTRIC'S OBJECTIVE has been to keep prices moving downward, keep wages going up, and to earn a fair profit. This calls for volume production, more efficient work and methods. With the help of every single employee, General Electric believes it can show our country, as it did in wartime, an example of American enterprise at its best.

Students Attend Class Meetings

Members Hold Discussions
Of Varied Group Interest

Selections of class songs and colors and plans for flags highlighted the meetings of the six high school classes Friday morning, January 18.

After discussing plans for the senior play, selection and ordering, the seniors decided upon their class song and motto. From the various suggestions presented, the students selected "Till the End of Time" as their class song and "The sky's the limit" as class motto. Mr. Devin, class sponsor, read a letter from Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo to the girls who were interested in the nursing profession. During the remainder of the meeting, the members played a game of railroad spelling.

Juniors discussed a class party and the president appointed a committee composed of Frances Gooch, James Guthrie, Zonelle Gregg, and Mary Ann Parker to plan the social. The class sponsor's assistant, Mrs. Hornstra, selected the following girls to usher at the junior play: Betty Miller, Jane Gilliam, Dorothy Gafford, Mary Browning, Helen Spencer, and Charlene Davenport. Members chose blue and silver as their class colors.

The rose was the selection made by the sophomore class as their flower and the class colors are red and white. The president appointed Frances Standley to present suggestions for a class song at the next meeting. Students also discussed a class motto.

Members of the freshman class held a short business meeting after which the following program ensued: Don Hickman and Bill Cleavenger sang "I Can't Begin to Tell You" and "It Might As Well Be Spring," and James Inman, Donald Davis and Janey Forrester lead the group in singing various popular songs including "It's Been A Long, Long Time," "Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe," and "Till the End of Time." Scharlean Pyatt accompanied the group at the piano.

A math race highlighted the eighth grade meeting. The class also planned a tacky party to be held February 14, in the high school gym.

Following the treasurer's report and a brief business meeting, students discussed a Valentine function. They decided to have a box and exchange Valentines. The president appointed the following committee to plan the social: Gloria Franklin, Lorraine Carter, Betty Ross Craig, Lois Collins, and Leona Graves. Several students were elected to plan the seventh grade flag. The remainder of the meeting was spent in the discussion of activity plans for the second semester.

GUILTY?

There is always a group of students in every high school who are insistently making statements which in reality are nothing but "put-offs" or bluffs that they don't mean.

Such a case may be prevalent this year. You've probably heard the statement, "I don't crack a book previous to the mid-term tests!"

It is said one has a certain mental capacity so you shouldn't expect to pass any type of subject without "touching a book."

Another type of bluffer is the fellow who constantly puts off duties. Excitement—that's what the third type of fellow craves, driving recklessly down the street ignoring the other motorists and scaring every human being in range.

Examples such as these are found in many high schools so if you are guilty, turn over a new leaf! Begin the next term anew!

PICK UP THE DEAD!

When you enter the picture show do you, too, get showered with popcorn? Do you get shot with paper wads? Do you pick a seat with chewing gum on it? If you don't you're really lucky!

It's disgraceful how some kids, that surely know better, can act in public places.

Gee whiz, kids, let's make those blows just a little softer! And maybe the next generation will be soooo calm that people can at least hear the movie whether they see it or not!

READ THIS, BOYS

Last week the girls began playing basketball every other day in the gym. Congratulations girls! It's splendid that we girls can play. Who said girls' games are not interesting? Maybe our rules are a

Custodians Outlay Work on Building

Realizing that cleaner and more beautiful surroundings create a better working atmosphere, the Public Schools' custodians, Mr. I. M. Steen and Mr. I. H. Hollabaugh, spent most of the Christmas holidays giving the schools a "general clean-up."

In the high school building over $300 of repair work was done on the radiators, such as replacing knobs and valves. New desks were put in several rooms. The floor and the lower part of the wall along the hall on the third floor were repainted.

Mr. Hollabaugh painted the wall in Mrs. Ball's classroom, number 31, and the storage space in the gymnasium was enlarged.

Since the new roof has been put on, Mr. Hollabaugh plans to paint all of the classroom walls and more work on the radiators will be done.

Feathery Flakes Fill Ditches and Fields

How softly the first real snow of the year slipped in on the wings of the night and gently covered this part of a drab world with a feathery white blanket. With it came a crisp, clean, cold Jack Frost huffin' and puffin', driving one indoors or outdoors; according to one's taste for sports.

Indoors—feeling warm and contented with the world in general, you either bring out that old forgotten quilt top to which you add a few stitches, or cuddle down in a big, soft chair with a book you've simply been dying to read, or pop corn, or make ice cream.

If you venture outside, you slip and slide. Soon you fall with a jar that almost breaks a hip, but you love it. The first person that happens by, bing—! You take him with a snowball and one whale of a fight is started. You forget the errand that your mother sent you on, and later limp home, all black and blue.

For a day or two one can skate, coast up and down hills, and then Old Sol peeps out, determined to put an end to all such fun. He melts fairy trellises, snow men, and even the snow forts. The thirsty soil soaks up every drop of precious moisture, and another frosty, wintry, magic spell is gone.

"Mystery in the Library," junior play, will be presented at 8:00, Thursday, January 31, in the high school auditorium. It was previously planned to be given January 18, but due to weather conditions, it was postponed.

bit soft. But how about being better sports, boys! Why do we receive those boos? How would you like for the entire Pep Squad to boo you at a conference game? Wouldn't be so funny, would it? Well, tit for tat. Let's try being a bit more courteous!

Sorry, kids, but Cal got snowed under last week and has a lot of catching up to do, so—

Too the horns!

Blow the trumpets!

Here is Cal—

Where shall I dump it?

To begin with, a very surprising couple turned up at the show Saturday night! None other than Clifford Burtz and W. T.'s Leta McNutt. Clifford, is all lost between you and Verna?

The day after the snow, Sue Gillispie, Juanita and Martha Avent had a knock-down, drag-out snow-fight with three boys, having the initials of M. G., W. D., and J. I.

A rumor was confirmed Saturday night when Malcolm Gunter and Virginia Reid stepped out together. They appeared to be having a good time.

Billy (highpoint) Abbott and Valeta Haines seem to have it bad all of a sudden. They were seen together Tuesday and Thursday nights and not doing bad either time. Keep up the good work, kids!

Evidently Charles Wright didn't get his mind maker-upper for Christmas. It seems he can't make a decision between Nancy Ann Nicklaus, Betty Lee Forrester, Bette Brown, and Sue Gillispie. Nancy Ann seems to have taken top billing for a while, at least!

Marvin Fite has been begging to have his name put in this column, so here it is: MARVIN FITE!

A couple of Sundays ago, Janey Forrester and Tommy Hunter were on very chummy terms and the next day Janey came to school wearing his ring. Nice work, Janey, but tell us, just where does Richard Walters fit into all this?

Late, but not least is that cute couple, Bruce Winn and Barbara McDougal. Did you have fun, kids?

Gladys Thomas, is it true that Carroll Wray Dickerson is your dream man, huh, is it?

Hubert Drake dedicated a song entitled "I Don't Care Who Knows It" (over the 12:30 Club) to five girls in CHS. The girls just want to let him know that they appreciated the thought even though they didn't hear the song.

Frances Gooch and Buck Guthrie, Mary Ann Parker and Harold Prichard had a "free for all" at Parker's house the other night and were reported to have had one good time. They haven't been doing bad in the halls, either.

Flashy Flash: Wilbert Long is wearing Sue Ann Colwell's bracelet!

That's all for this time, but stick around 'til next time and I'll dig up some more dirt. 'Til then, goon-bye.

"Who was she, Gramps?" his soldier grandson asked.

Firestone Announces NEW

2-WAY PLAN

FOR YOUR DRIVING SAFETY

We Will Recap Your Present Smooth Tires For Winter Driving Safety

When New Firestone DeLuxe Champions Are Available to You We Will Equip Your Car and Buy Your Recapped Tires

OPA has announced the end of tire rationing effective January 1, 1946 — but what does this mean to you as a motorist? Does it mean you can get new tires today?

Tire production is far ahead of prewar years — and yet there may not be enough tires to go around! Four years of war have built up a terrific backlog of civilian demand. In spite of this you don't have to worry — Firestone has the welcome answer.

This sensational new plan brings you driving safety NOW when you need it most—it eliminates the guesswork about the condition of your tires. Just drive in and your present tires, if smooth and dangerous, will be quality recapped by the famous Firestone Factory Method. You exchange smooth tire danger for the famous Gear Grip safety tread that provides extra protection against skidding.

And what's more — when new Firestone De Luxe Champion Tires are available to you, we will buy your recapped tires and put the new De Luxe Champions on your car. Why take chances — let the Firestone 2-Way Plan be your answer to driving safety.
